

DIRIGO FLYER

Vol. II, No. 9 December 1994

Seasons Greetings!

My apologies to all for the lack of newsletters recently. Too many things to do: help problems at my store and training new people (plus having to spend more time there); selling the calendar; the holidays and spending time with the family all combined to leave me way behind. A complete and full newsletter is in the process of being written and will be updated next week after our next meeting, which will be:

Saturday, January 14, 1995

9 a.m.

Conference Room

Portland International Jetport

We have lots of news, several new members, and lots of things to plan for in 1995. The Thunderbirds will be at the Brunswick Naval Air Station this summer, and we need to plan a good display for that show, which we also can use for Owls Head and Greenville.

Between the snow going and the leaves coming this spring, we are planning a major expedition to the Katahdin Iron Works area to search for long-lost airplanes, and we need lots of volunteers.

Happy New Year!

It's a new year and 1995 membership dues are now due. Several members have already paid and dues are still only $20.

Support your society and all the events that are planned, plus bigger and better newsletters throughout the year.

I hope to see you all Saturday.

Let Your Voice Be Heard

Please let us know what we can do to help you, or things you would like us to plan. We are your society, and we need your ideas. For further information, please contact:
